Tough dates await top teams in second week

LUT WILLIAMS
BCSP Editor

There's no sense in fooling with the BCSP Top Ten rankings this early in the season as the best black college teams, particularly those in the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS), are playing money games against mostly Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS) teams.

In translation, these are games that the HBCU programs are highly unlikely to win. But they are good measuring sticks to gauge the talent and competitiveness of their teams.

A highly competitive game means the HBCU program is among the better FCS teams. Blowouts mean they are unlikely to match up well with the top FCS teams.

But, at least the money is good!

Take for example this week's game between BCSP No. 1 North Carolina Central (0-1, 0-0), coming off a 49-6 thrashing at the hands of ACC-member Duke, travelling up to Kalamazoo, Michigan to take on Western Michigan in a 7 p.m. start.

All Western Michigan did last week was upset Big Ten member Northwestern, 22-21. The Eagles can expect no break facing the Broncos.

Similar HBCU FCS vs. FBS foes Saturday include BCSP No. 2 Prairie View A&M (1-0, 1-0 SWAC), who squeaked out a 29-25 win over SWAC West Division rival Texas Southern Sunday, travelling to College Station, Texas for an 11 a.m. date with SEC power Texas A&M (1-0).

Texas A&M knocked off Pac-12 member and 16th-ranked UCLA Saturday, 31-24.

BCSP No. 3 Bethune-Cookman, No. 6 Grambling State and No. 7 South Carolina State also face formidable FBS opponents.

B-CU, whose opening game against BCSP No. 4 Alcorn State Sunday was cancelled in the first quarter due to dangerous weather, heads to Denton, Texas to tangle with North Texas (1-0) in a 6 p.m. affair. North Texas fell to SMU 34-21 Saturday.

Grambling has the unenviable task of playing at Pac-12 member Arizona at 7:45 p.m. Saturday. The Wildcats are smarting from a 18-16 home loss to Brigham Young Saturday.

S. C. State (0-1) travels to Ruston, Louisiana to face Louisiana Tech at 6 p.m. La.-Tech was a narrow 22-21 loser to SEC member Arkansas Saturday.

BCSP No. 5 North Carolina A&T (1-0) is also on the road Saturday (6 p.m.) at Kent State (0-1), a team that plays out of the FBS Mid American Conference (MAC). Kent State battled Big Ten member Penn State Saturday before succumbing by a 33-13 score.

BCSP No. 8 Southern (0-1) stays in state but on the road in New Orleans (7 p.m.) to face Tulane (0-1). The Green Wave dropped a close 7-3 decision to ACC member Wake Forest last week.

Norfolk State and Hampton will have their hands full facing ranked FCS opponents. Norfolk State (1-0) goes up I-64 to take on FCS No. 2 Richmond at 6 p.m. The Spiders (1-0) pulled off a shocking 37-20 upset of ACC member Virginia Saturday.

Hampton (0-1) stays home for a 6 p.m. tussle with William & Mary (0-1), ranked 13th in this week's FCS national poll. The Indians lost last week to ACC-member NC State, 48-14.

In other key games, Tennessee State (1-0) and Jackson State (0-1) renew their rivalry in the 27th annual Southern Heritage Classic at the Liberty Bowl in Memphis (6 p.m.).

Alcorn State has an early season SWAC East Division showdown at home (6 p.m.) vs Alabama State (0-1).

BCSP No. 9 Tuskegee (1-0) renews its annual battle for early season SIAC supremacy vs. Albany State (1-0) in the 3rd Annual Whitewater Classic in Phenix City, Alabama Saturday (5 p.m.).

And, BCSP No. 10 Bowie State (0-1), coming off a 50-48 shootout loss to Seton Hill last week, stays home Saturday for a 4 p.m. CIAA contest vs. Johnson C. Smith (0-1).

2016 BCSP NFL REPORT

Black college products in NFL down by four to 32

S. C. State tops the list with six; Washington leads teams with four; Also, 11 rookies make the grade

LUT WILLIAMS
BCSP Editor

Twenty-four (24) former-black college players were named Saturday to 53-man opening day rosters for the 2016 NFL season which begins Thursday.

Another eight were named Sunday to 10-man NFL practice squads.

The total of 32 players from the black college ranks is five less than the 36 that made opening-day and practice squad rosters last year but continues a trend that has seen these numbers dwindle over the past couple of decades.

Back in 1994 when the BLACK COLLEGE SPORTS PAGE started publishing the BCSP NFL Report, there were a whopping 86 players on opening day rosters.

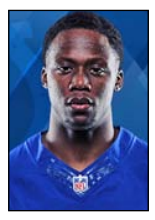
The numbers have steadily declined since.

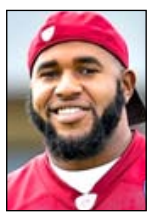
This season's list includes an unprecedented 11 rookies. Five were named to opening day active rosters.

They include the three taken in the April NFL Draft – South Carolina State defensive tackle Javon Hargrave by Pittsburgh, North Carolina Central defensive back Ryan Smith by Tampa Bay and S. C. State tight end Temarrick Hemingway by the Los Angeles Rams.

The other undrafted rookiesnamed to active rosters were former Grambling State wide receiver Chester Rogers with Indianapolis and Alabama A&M defensive end Anthony Lanier with Washington.

The six undrafted rookies named to practice squads were Norfolk State linebacker Deon King (Dallas), S. C. State's running back Jalen Simmons (Carolina), SCSU defensive back Antonio Hamilton (Oakland), Fayetteville State wide receiver Chris Hubert (Arizona), North Carolina A&T defensive back Tony McRae (Cincinnati) and Hampton qua terback David Watford who made the Philadelphia Eagles' practice squad as a wide receiver.





MAKING THE GRADE: Undrafted rookies Chester Rogers (l.) out of Grambling State and Anthony Lanier (r.) out of Alabama A&M surprisingly made Indianapolis and Washington opening day active rosters respectively.

A total of six former South Carolina State Bulldogs are in the league, tops among black colleges. Hampton with four and Tennessee State and Norfolk State with three are next.

With S. C. State leading the way, a whopping 19 players with Mid Eastern Athletic Conference roots made the grade, a number that dwarfs the six from the Southwestern Athletic Conference.

As usual, there are more defensive backs (10) from HBCUs than any other position. Defensive line and receiver are next with five. There are also five at linebacker.s

Fourteen-year veteran Indianapolis Colts linebacker Robert Mathis out of Alabama A&M and San Francisco safety Antoine Bethea entering his 11th year out of Howard are the most senior HBCU players in the league.
